American Forces Information Service

Introduction

This pamphlet is intended to assist service members and their dependents in utilizing Uniformed Services medical and dental facilities in the United States and overseas.

The mission, status or capacity of a medical/dental facility may change from time to time; or, for reasons of economy or consolidation, certain facilities may be closed or deactivated. It is suggested, therefore, that you check in advance to determine if the care you require is available. Call the facility itself or a nearby Health Benefits Advisor (HBA).

HBAs have been trained as resource persons to help you use the military health care system. They can answer your questions concerning the care you are entitled to, and where and how to get that care. In this book, HBAs are listed according to the facilities where their offices are located--but that does not mean an individual HBA can only answer questions concerning the facility where he or she is located. If you have a question about a hospital or clinic that has no HBA in residence, the HBA at a nearby facility can help you.

If you have seen previous editions of this pamphlet, you may recall that Public Health Service medical treatment facilities were listed. Pursuant to a law passed in 1981, the Public Health Service no longer operates these facilities, and all but ten of them have been converted to community use as nonprofit private agencies. Ten former Public Health Service facilities have been redesignated as Uniformed Services medical treatment facilities, and are listed in this pamphlet.

Who Is Eligible?

The following categories of individuals are eligible for care at Uniformed Services hospitals and medical clinics:

- active duty members of the Uniformed Services
- retired members
- spouses of active duty, retired, deceased active duty, and deceased retired members
- unmarried children up to age 21 (21 and over if severely handicapped and up to age 23 if attending school full time), of active duty, retired, deceased active duty, and deceased retired members
- dependent parents and parents-in-law, dependent step-parents and step-parents-in-law
- certain former spouses of active duty or retired members

Furnishing of medical care to all categories except active duty service members is subject to availability of space and facilities and capabilities of the professional staff. Availability is determined by the commanding officer of each facility.

Emergency care will be provided at all times to eligible beneficiaries. However, when the commanding officer determines that there is not sufficient space, facilities and/or professional staff to provide nonemergency care to all eligible persons, care will be provided in the following order of priority:

PRIORITY ONE—Active duty service members.

PRIORITY TWO—Dependents of active duty service members and dependents of members who died while serving on active duty.

PRIORITY THREE—Retired members, dependents of retired members, and dependents of members who died while in a retired status.

Benefits will be furnished, if available, regardless of Service affiliation, assignment, or location.

If you are located or assigned in an area where no Uniformed Service medical facility is available and are eligible, the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services (CHAMPUS) may be your best source of medical care. Individuals eligible for CHAMPUS are spouses and children of active duty members. Retired members and their spouses and children, and the surviving spouses and children of members who died while on active duty or in a retired status and certain former spouses are also eligible provided they are not entitled to part A of medicare. Active duty members are not eligible for CHAMPUS, nor are dependent parents or parents-in-law.

If you live in one of the designated zip codes around a Uniformed Services hospital and require nonemergency inpatient care, you must try to obtain that care at that hospital. However, if the type of care you need is not available at your designated military hospital, obtain a nonavailability statement from the military hospital before being treated in a civilian hospital. Then submit a claim for cost-sharing benefits under CHAMPUS and include the nonavailability statement.

Under the Uniformed Services Former Spouses Protection Act, an unremarried, divorced spouse is eligible for military medical care, including CHAMPUS benefits, if the following criteria are met:

1. The former spouse was married to a service member or former member (retiree) for at least 20 years;
2. During at least 20 years of marriage, the service member or former service member performed creditable military service; and
3. The former spouse does not have medical insurance coverage under an employer-sponsored health plan.

The Defense Enrollment and Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS)

In addition to possessing a valid military identification card, service members (active duty and retired), their dependents and survivors, and eligible divorced spouses must be enrolled in the Defense Enrollment and Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS) to be eligible for care in military treatment facilities or under CHAMPUS. DEERS is a worldwide, joint service computer system which lists all those eligible for military benefits, including medical benefits. With the exception of emergency care, military medical facilities and CHAMPUS are required to check eligibility for medical care based on DEERS verification before routine medical care can be authorized.

Active duty and retired military sponsors are automatically enrolled through service personnel and finance files. Dependents, survivors and eligible divorced spouses must be enrolled by their sponsors or must enroll themselves if they are not already enrolled. Information on how to enroll is available through military personnel offices.

For details about CHAMPUS, check with the HBA at a Service medical facility, or write to: OCHAMPUS Benefit Services, Aurora, Colorado 80045.

Who Is Eligible For Dental Care?

This section outlines who is eligible for dental care at Uniformed Services facilities, subject to the noted limitations and availability of space, facilities and/or professional staff.

When the officer in charge of a dental facility determines that there is not sufficient space, facilities, and/or professional staff to provide nonemergency dental care to all eligible persons, care will be provided in the same order of priority as described for medical care.

Active Duty Service Members

Active duty service members are entitled to dental care in any facility of any Uniformed

Service. Routine care is normally obtained, however, at the member's station of assignment.

Retired Service Members

Retired service members are entitled to dental care in any facility of any Uniformed Service, subject to availability of space, facilities, and/or professional staff.

Dependents

Dependents of active duty, retired, and deceased service members are entitled to routine dental care in Uniformed Services facilities subject to availability of space, facilities and/or professional staff. They are eligible at all military dental facilities for dental care that is considered a necessary part of medical, surgical or preventive care.

Outside the United States, these dependents are entitled to routine dental care in Uniformed Services facilities subject to availability of space, facilities, and/or professional staff.
